Dulles Takes First Stand for Pakistan

Pledges Support Against Soviet Ally In Southeast Asia

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — The United States and six other SEATO nations gave full moral support today to Pakistan in its border dispute with Soviet-backed Afghanistan.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, attending the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization conference, made what was believed to be America's first major policy statement on the Pakistan-Afghan issue. There was no commitment to back the stand with military support.

DULLES ANNOUNCED the U.S. position in the border dispute after Pakistan Finance Minister Syed Amjad Ali told SEATO delegates that the Soviets may attempt to use Afghans to start a war with Pakistan in the same manner that Chinese Communists used North Koreans against the Republic of Korea.

All pointed to American "failure" to draw a defense line in Korea prior to 1950. He said failure to act in Pakistan now might lead to "something like what happened in the Far East."

DULLES FOLLOWED Ali's speech with what was believed to be America's first major policy statement on the Pakistan's west frontier province. The Pathans want to form an independent state and are backed by Afghanistan.

"The United States has never doubted that the sovereignty of Pakistan extends to the Durand line... We regarded this as the international frontier at the time we recognized Pakistan in 1947," Dulles said.

"THE UNITED STATES regards it as appropriate to make it quite clear that the SEATO treaty area as defined in articles four and eight of the treaty includes, so far as Pakistan is concerned, territory up to the Durand line."

The Durand line was drawn by India in 1893 when Afghanistan tried to push its borders into sparsely settled Indian territory. The line at that time defined the authority of the Emir of Afghanistan on his eastern and southern borders.

Airline Peace Talks Bog Down

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Negotiations between Western Air Lines, which normally serves Palm Springs, and the striking Brotherhood of Railway Clerks have broken off in a dispute over the union shop issue.

Leverett Edwards, chairman of the Federal Mediation Board, said hopes for an early settlement of a prolonged strike against the company were set back yesterday when negotiators walked out. He said no further meetings have been scheduled.

Edwards said negotiations failed after the company turned down a union proposal that the 850 clerks return to work providing Western would submit the union shop question to a union vote.

INDIAN GHOST OF THOUSAND PALMS

The ghost of Chief Pushawalla watches Paul Wilhelm of Thousand Palms Oasis. The Chief traded this oasis to Paul's dad (the Lucky Dutchman) about 60 years ago for a buckboard and two mules. The crazed mules died later, with the Chief, because he couldn't get them out of the wash. This was during the cloud-burst of 1899.

Yes, the Chief watches Paul as he digs into the old Indian graves and watches him as he plants palm seeds and tiny palms between the giant palms of 200 years. He laughs at the little plants for Paul is trying to gild the lily. Can't do much to what is already the prettiest darn Oasis on this Desert.

Mrs. Odlum, candidate for Congress in the district comprised of Riverside and Imperial counties, flew in to the Village airport today as one of five stops to have nomi-

TORTURE BANDIT GOUGES HANDS OF BOUND SURGEON WITH PLIERS

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A wealthy surgeon said today he thinks he can still perform operations even though his hands were mangled by a sadistic burglar.

However, Dr. Justis F. Wynn's medical colleagues weren't so sure. They said the torturer had gouged chunks of flesh from the

The doctor may be injured much more seriously than he believes, they said.

Wynn was attacked in the darkness of his bedroom early yesterday by a gunman who stole $3000 and then tortured him in an attempt to get more.

Donald Lockwood, 31, nephew of Wynn's brother-in-law, was arrested on an anonymous tip one hour later. He denied the attack and Wynn was to view him in a police lineup today.

Wynn said he was alone in his home and asleep after returning from a Florida vacation when he heard a voice asking "Where is your money?"

"I was sure that it was a gun pressing against my stomach," the husky doctor said. He estimated its position and "grabbed for both the gun and the man."

The two men lurched around the room in a deadly struggle. Then the gun went off, missing the doctor, and he released his grip. The burglar slugged him and Wynn "went down dazed."

"At this point my wrists were bound and ankles taped," he said. "The robber then rolled me over on my face and told me 'I'm going to use these pliers on your fingers until you tell me where the rest of the money is. He tried to get a grip on my thumbnails but the pliers slipped off. Then he started working on the flesh of my fingers. It felt as if he was pinching the flesh off my hands."

"I told him 'I make a living with these hands—if I had any money in the house I'd tell you where it was. But I don't have any.'"

The gunman finally gave up his torture and left.

Tornadoes in 3 States Kill and Injure 33

By UNITED PRESS

A three-state tornado rampage killed one person and injured 33 last night and the Weather Bureau warned of possible twisters today in six more states.

Tornado warnings were posted for parts of Kentucky, Alabama, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, and Louisiana. The Chicago Weather Bureau lifted earlier warnings for areas in Illinois and Indiana, scene of last night's worst twister.

Warnings for Ohio and Western Pennsylvania also were lifted.

In the West, wrecking winds hit Southern California, hitting 90-mile per hour gusts, and 50-mph. winds fanned a forest fire raging over 1300 acres of New Mexico timberland.

The Midwest twisters started in Missouri, touched down at Buckley, Ill., and then raced with full fury into Indiana. A killer tornado roared full blast through the residential heart of Marion.

A young woman was killed and at least 25 persons were found injured in the Marion wreckage. The twister flattened scores of homes, weakened two schools, and ripped bricks away from other buildings. Damage estimates ran well over $1,000,000.

The twister found 40 parents practicing for a minstrel show at a junior high school and sent a chimney crashing into their midst.

Farther back along the twisters' path there was extensive damage at Perryville, Mo., and four persons injured at both Buckley and Dunnington.

The twisters raged in advance of a strong cold front which shoved its way into the Ohio Valley. Thunderstorms and hail storms played on its edges, blocking roads in three counties near Detroit, Mich.

Hail was three to four inches deep in central Michigan, telephone lines and trees were down, and lights and heat were knocked out in some communities.

In the cold wave's wake, temperatures dropped as low as 10 degrees below zero at Jamestown, N. D. Snows swept the northern Midwest, crippling the presidential campaigns of Democrats Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver in Minnesota, and thick dust clouds billowed in the Southwest.

Village Can Still Boost Census Count of 12,146

Village residents were reminded today that even though a preliminary count has been submitted, they may still be counted in the special census if they fill out a form which appears on Page 2 of today's Desert Sun, and send it to the Census Supervisor, U. S. Bureau of Census, P. O. Box 850, Palm Springs, before Saturday.

March 10 is the absolute deadline though, according to City Manager R. W. Peterson, who revealed the preliminary figure of 12,146 yesterday.

The figure fell short of the advance estimate of 13,000, but still is a substantial increase from the 10,381 counted in 1953.

The count was taken of residents who spend six or more months here, and who do not claim any other place as a permanent residence. This includes persons who work here during the Fall and Winter seasons.

Peterson said he doubts the final official count will vary substantially from the preliminary figure, but added that every additional person registered will bring added revenue to the city in gas tax refunds.

Italy's President Heads for Frisco

DETROIT (AP) — President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy ended his visit to Detroit today and took off for San Francisco aboard President Eisenhower's former personal plane, the Columbine II.

Gronchi spent most of the morning touring the giant River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Company, where 63,000 workers are employed.

'Neffter, Neffer Pour Beer Cold, Low or Into Anything But a Beeg Mug'

By HERMAN W. NICHOLS

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Germans insist that we don't know how to serve beer, and that goes for Milwaukee and St. Louis.

That is the word from a friend of mine, a major, who has made a mighty survey of beer joints around Army headquarters in Europe, mostly Germany.

This major likes to tell about his little chat with a German beer-tap tender. This fellow reminded the soldier that in America folks like their suds served at 32.5 degrees Fahrenheit.

"That's where you Americans are foolish," the German barkeep told my friend. "It must not be colder than 45 degrees Fahrenheit. If so it loses its flavor, goes flat like dat, and yooost is no goot for drinking purposes."

The major, being an experimentalist and interested in the business of learning, played guinea pig. On the house. After a number of experiments for free he was inclined to agree that the German inn keeper was pretty much right.

Before the major could pull away without fear of trouble with the cops, he was forced to listen to another lecture.

"Also," the barkeep said, "you Yankees don't know any more than to put fine beer in six ounce glasses. Ant when you pour her, you sneek the beer down the side of the glass, so she will not foam."

Beer to be goot, must be poured from a height of at least one foot over the mug. And that mug must not be a little one. It has to be a great beeg mug. The mug ought to be earthen. Glass is not goot."

The major again was about to pull away, when up came the subject of washing them.

"Neffter," the bartender was saying to the major, "neffer, neffer go washing a beer mug in soap and water. Use salt and hot water and notin else. Soap in the mug, louse, as you say, up the foam on the next round."

U.S. Admits Bomber Lead Lost to Reds

Russia May Be Building Twice As Many Heavy Jets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is considering a major step-up in B52 production to overcome Russia's admitted lead in heavy bomber output.

It was learned today that this government now accepts as fact that Russia is building more — perhaps twice as many — ultra-modern heavy set bombers per month than the United States, which has always previously excelled in that field.

While B52 production is rising, present forecast monthly rates for this country and Russia indicate the U.S. Air Force has virtually no chance of catching up with Russia without a speed up.

The U. S. production rate is scheduled to reach a peak of 17 B52s a month, about four times the current production. The Air Force is now considering the possibility of a step-up to 25 or more a month and a substantial increase in the total numbers to be produced.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson acknowledged at a news conference Tuesday that a production increase is getting "some consideration" in the Air Force. He also had some hot retorts for Democratic criticism of the defense program who have centered their fire on what they consider a lag in guided missiles development.

On the eve of a Senate Armed Service subcommittee inquiry into the air-atoms and missiles situation, Wilson had this comment for Chairman Stuart Symington (D-Mo) — "I hope he finds he doesn't know as much as he thinks he does now." Symington declined to comment on Wilson's observation.

Wilson, in what looked like a direct slap at Sen. Henry H. Jackson (D-Wash.) and Symington, also asserted that there had been "too much emphasis" on guided missiles in the controversy over defense policies.

Wilson flew today to Ramey Air Force Base, Puerto Rico, to join a secret conference of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Lawmaker Lights Into Local Lips Loosely Offered

MANILA, P.I. (AP) — City Councilman Apolinio Genar said today he would introduce a resolution to make Filipino women offer their lips to local males before foreigners.

He was outraged that a Filipino girl asked American actor Marino Brando at a press conference here to "kiss me" and Brando refused.

"Gentlemen, look," Genar told newsmen. "Our foreign policy is run by Americans, and our economy is controlled by Chinese. Let us not allow foreigners to control our love life."

Genar said that if the woman who asked Brando for a kiss, had come to him first, "I would have given her full satisfaction."

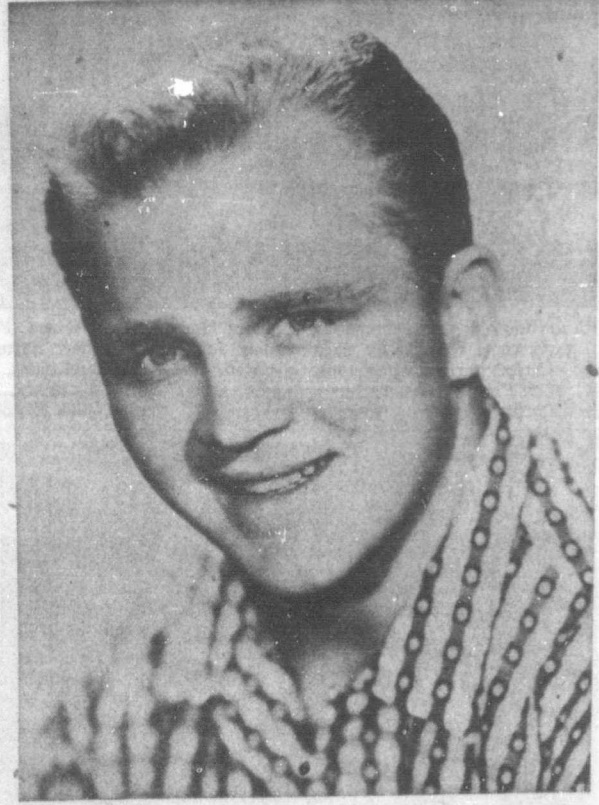

The Filipino race, Genar said, is "more virile, more romantic than any other race in the world."

Gets 4 Months in Gaming Fray

Harl Clinton, 39-year-old Palm Springs gardener, today began a four-month term in county jail after he was sentenced in Superior Court on a guilty plea to a charge of unlawful use of a deadly weapon.

Nurben Ballard 27-year-old Palm Springs laborer, was released after a charge of assault was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Clinton was accused of slashing 20-year-old L. D. Hunt, February 25 during a gambling argument, and Ballard was thought to have cut Clinton.

GARY CROSBY has been added to the list of top entertainers who will perform at the Police Show Saturday, March 24, at the Palm Springs High school. Les Brown and his orchestra will play for dancing and the show. Proceeds are used by the Palm Springs Police Association for training purposes, to aid in building the department library, association fund, pistol range equipment, and in juvenile work. Tickets are on sale at the police station, or are available from any officer.

Alabama Drafts 'Go Slow' Plea to High Court

ATLANTA (AP) — Alabama legislators today drafted a "go slow" plea, warning the U. S. Supreme Court of a danger of civil strife from forcing the South to desegregate too hastily.

The Alabama Senate received a House-passed resolution asking the court "to permit the white and colored races in the South to live together in peace and harmony."

The proposed resolution, intended as an official appeal to the Supreme Court, cites the Autherine Lucy riots at the University of Alabama as evidence of potential danger.

"The need is greater at this time of the year, because of the large increase in population, which produces more emergencies requiring blood," Henwood said in urging that the full quota be reached.

Worker Suffers Eye Burns in Storm Aftermath

Only known casualty suffered as a result of yesterday's wind storm, happened last night when an employee of the California Electric Company suffered eye burns from an electric flash in a pump house near Rancho Mirage.

Recuperating at home from the flash burn is Lester Hurst, California Electric line foreman from Palm Springs, who was injured while investigating the explosion of an arrester in the company's pump house. While in the building, bare wires which had been connected to the arrester flashed when they struck each other, the intense light inflicting the burns. They were not serious.

Five electric company crews were on the job in this area until 10 p.m. last night clearing up the damage caused by the wind which took out 20 poles and downed thousands of feet of power lines.

Late yesterday afternoon a power pole between Thunderbird and Tamarisk, holding three transformers was downed by falling trees.

'He Can Have Nomination If He Wants It'

President Rejects Idea Of Dumping '52 Running Mate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he has asked Richard M. Nixon to "tell me what he would like to do" about running for vice president again.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower made it clear today that Vice President Richard M. Nixon can have the Republican vice presidential nomination again if he wants it.

Mr. Eisenhower angrily rejected any suggestion that he dump Nixon as his running mate.

He emphasized however, that he has not presumed to tell Nixon what he should do; that Nixon must chart his own political future.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference that he has no criticism of Nixon as a man, an associate, or a running mate on the Republican ticket. But he said he has not presumed to tell Nixon what he should do about the campaign this year.

The President also said that his general physical fitness to conduct the burdens of hard work in the presidency showed signs of definite deterioration, he would then step aside and put the matter before the American people.

HE SAID he was not speaking of a brief illness such as a one-week attack of influenza, but basic inability to perform his job as he sees it.

Other highlights of Mr. Eisenhower's news conference:

He regarded as favorable the immediate reaction of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin to his March 1 proposal for an eventual ban on production of nuclear weapons.

He said he believes the United Nations should take urgent and early action on the tense situation in the Middle East, with Israel and the Arab world agreeing to abide by U.N. armistice terms.

He disclosed that Bulganin at the Geneva summit meeting last July discussed one or two moves Russia was making in the Middle East. He added that Bulganin in effect described these moves as purely commercial.

AS FOR THE present day prospects of peace or war, he said he believes the world has awakened to the fact that global war is getting well nigh unthinkable and that he believes the uneasy peace or cold war is going to take a different direction.

He agreed with Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson that there has been too much emphasis on this country's guided missile program as far as public discussion is concerned.

MR. EISENHOWER reacted sharply when a reporter cited a published report that some of his advisers are urging him to "dump" Nixon and that the President has suggested to Nixon that he stand aside and perhaps take a Cabinet post.

With energetic seriousness, the President said that if anyone ever had the effrontery to suggest to him that he dump a person he respected as much as he did Nixon the resultant commotion would be widely heard.

Mr. Eisenhower said he has not presumed to tell the vice president what he should do in the forthcoming campaign. But he has told Nixon he should be one of the cornerstones of the Republican party because Nixon is young, intelligent, talented in the affairs of government and deeply dedicated to the same principles for what Mr. Eisenhower stood.

The President then pointed out that he had asked Nixon to chart out his own course, then to tell him, Mr. Eisenhower, what Nixon wants to do.

County Defers Raise Request of Employees

A request by the Riverside County Employees' Association that effective July 1, 1956 a blanket five per cent increase for all employees of the county be approved by the board of supervisors, was referred by the supervisors this week to the county personnel director.

The employee association said it would not be fair to delay pay increases until after a classification study now being made by the new personnel director, Donald E. Spencer, has been completed. They said the study will take too long. The cost of living increase, according to the employees, has prompted the State of California, the Federal Government, the City of Riverside, the Board of Regents of the University of California and other agencies to initiate action to increase salaries from five to seven and one-half per cent.

In addition to allowing the blanket pay increase, the association said the supervisors should appropriate funds in the 1956-57 budget for contracting with a private or governmental agency to complete a classification study.

County Returns Palm Canyon Rights-of-Way

Relinquishment of the Palm Canyon road over Indian lands in the Palm Springs area, to the Bureau of Indian Affairs, was recommended by County Road Commissioner A. C. Keith and referred by the supervisors this week to county counsel for preparation of a resolution by which they may effect the transfer.

The U.S. Department of the Interior gave the county rights of way over Indian lands for the road with a provision that the county take it over and maintain it when it had been improved to acceptable standards. It was brought up to standards, but because the Mission Indians have continued to collect toll on the road, the county has refused to maintain it.

"Palm Canyon Road as the entrance to a scenic attraction, has considerable traffic," Keith told the supervisors. "Its present condition is extremely rough and somewhat unsafe. Representatives of the Bureau of Indian Affairs have requested that it be relinquished by the county through proper legal procedure. It could then be added to their system, improved by them to proper standards, and if the toll condition can be removed, it can then again be transferred to the county."

"This will get the county off the hook regarding liability for bad road repair," commented County Counsel Sullivan.

Atom Peace Pile
(St. Louis Globe-Democrat)

The United States' decision to release $1,000,000,000 of uranium 235 for peaceful uses at home and abroad is an act in telling contrast with the military atom brandishing currently showing from the Communist stage in Moscow.

Whether deliberately contrived or not, the timing was astute. One after another Red leaders have been roaring threats of the annihilation Russian would wreak upon America with hydrogen and atom weapons, in event of an "aggression" they know the United States will never invoke.

As they boast of their atomic prowess, the President quietly informs the world we have so much uranium now we can afford to dispose of 88,000 pounds of the stuff.

While they talk of raining nuclear bombs on American cities, should war come, Mr. Eisenhower moves to devote a substantial quantity of our fission materials to civilian power needs.

Once again, Mr. Eisenhower emerges on the world stage as the outstanding champion of atoms for peace. It is the most dramatic episode in the atomic saga since his United Nations speech for an "atom peace pool" on Dec. 8, 1953. It is parcel of the same policy.

Last week Soviet First Deputy Premier Mikoyan declared hydrogen bombs could be hurled on American cities, on factories of the "imperialists," in event of United States "aggression." Red Defense Minister Zhukov echoed the threats.

Only two days ago Russian Premier Bulganin declared the Soviet would step up its atom development "to build Communism." He did not say peace, he did not dedicate atoms for any purpose but weapons and power aggrandizement.

The United States' U-235 will be sold or leased, beginning this year, half to meet demands of private and public power design at home, half for peace pursuits of foreign nations outside the Communist orbit.

The decision will not imperil our atomic defense. The President's action was taken only after concurrence of the Defense and State Departments, upon recommendation of the Atomic Energy Commission. Safeguards will be devised to prevent diversion to non-peaceful purposes.

The President is not endangering our essential atomic defense program. He seeks to share not only our technical knowledge but our nuclear store with peace-seeking peoples of the world.

What he has done is demonstrate to all nations American co-operation and leadership in shifting atomic development from military isolation to humanity's service. Here is not talk, but deed to translate the atomic age from the arsenal of global doom to the fields of global progress.

Money and Politics
(The Detroit News)

Americans just now are being treated to an exposition of the power of money in their politics. For this they can thank the advent of natural gas as a major fuel.

Many of our great national industries have had their day under the same kind of spotlight as that now directed on the oil-gas industry in connection with the Harris bill passage. The railroads and the "power-trust" come immediately to mind. In their day they were guilty of crudities as flagrant as those now attributed to the oil magnates and their minions.

Most business groups have since learned better political manners than those lately displayed in the struggle to free natural gas from federal price regulation. But if older industries are nowadays more discreet, it is not because they have abandoned interest in the decisions of government affecting them.

Money with an ax to grind is still a main reliance of our major parties for the indispensable wherewithal of politics. It is to this that Marxists refer when they snicker at our democracy as a sham actually directed from "Wall Street."

Americans know better. They know that labor union money has become a factor fully as influential as business money. And they know that in any case it is a rare politician who nowadays will brazenly dare the ire of his constituents to serve the interest of a campaign contributor. The Harris bill could not have passed if the people had been more interested or if it were not pos-

Burden Too Large
(Beaver Dam, Kentucky, Ohio Co. Messenger)

In his memoirs, Harry Truman speaks of the incredibly heavy burden of work that is imposed upon the President. Now Herbert Hoover suggests that Congress create the office of an administrative vice president, legally empowered to administer many duties of a relatively routine nature that are presently borne

Competition is Remedy

Research recently disclosed that of the 15 largest manufacturing companies in 1900 only one is in that category today, and that of the 100 largest industrial enterprises in 1909 only 36 still enjoy that distinction. If a business gets too monopolistic, or otherwise fails to serve the people better than any other, competition, time and obsolescence will soon remedy that wrong.

We should certainly heed the words of our only two living former Presidents. The job, as now constituted, is a potential killer. In addition, it is absolutely impossible for any man to discharge the unnecessarily multitudinous responsibilities of the President efficiently and fully.

No verse today.
Too many friends
Submitting lines
On weather trends.
Of turbulence
And flying sand.
But why admit
'Tain't always grand?

Funny how an unusual event can set fire to the imagination. I heard some wild tales about Tuesday's gale which, I am glad to say, were unfounded.

At that, it was about the most severe storm to sweep the area in many, many years. The estimates of damage soared higher than the dust kicked up.

If the number of trailers people said were blown over were put end to end on Highway 99, nobody would have been able to cross the highway between here and Puento Road.

THE ELEMENTS aroused the poetic fever in a lot of my friends and the suggestions for verse concerning it ranged from "It blew! Oh, phew!" to "If you call this a zephyr, you're papa to a heifer."

But, as an old-time Villager said: "Nothing is perfect but we're nearer it than many other places. Takes a bad day once in a while to make us appreciate the vast majority of good ones."

Leave it to Palm Springs to put on a different act. I believe it is the first time anywhere that a swimming pool was blown out of the ground and I'm told one was Tuesday.

One final note: It's an ill wind that blows no good, so they say. Ask any school kid. He didn't have to go yesterday.

LET'S LEAVE the wind and gripe a bit. It's aggravating to get settled comfortably by the radio to await the broadcast of an event at a certain time and then fidget while an announcer drones along on a dreary commercial all through the time specified for the broadcast in publicity of the station earlier.

Having no television for the time being, I depended on a Los Angeles station last Saturday to hear the running of the Santa Anita Derby. It was listed in all of the station's programs as due at 5 p.m. (delayed).

But nothing happened. Nothing but praise for a real estate development. Not even an explanation of why the program was not being broadcast.

And the advertiser was the innocent target of the wrath of exasperated fans, too.

BERT McGOVERN, well known Village visitor, and leading fish canner of the northwest, said that this year's salmon pack is away below normal.

And during Lent, too, with its many fast days when fish is the main item on the menu. Production was the lowest in 50 years, he said. Estimates were that one million less cases of canned fish were available.

FRIENDS TELL ME that automobile manufacturers who are going all out to make their products safer are overlooking one big item.

They are installing safety belts, collapsible steering wheels, padded instrument boards. That's all right for those in the car.

But why not build them with padded front bumpers?

Library Notes

POTPOURRI

Warmly caressing days again, and the patio of the Welwood Murray Memorial Library is as well used as the stacks themselves, thus proclaiming — to paraphrase a remark of Edward Gibbon — the versatility of its readers' tastes. Gibbon was, however, referring to a certain Oriental potentate who had a library of one thousand books and a harem of one thousand women.

And, come the harbingers of spring, people browse around the Frank Cutler Memorial Garden section, mentally landscaping the yard or planning new floral arrangements for the living room. More and more golfers, harassed with an habitual slice, take books by the experts on how to play the game; and it is only the avid and catholic curiosity of readers that weans librarians gently from inclinations to spring fever!

Where is Saigon? On what day of the week did Paul Revere make his nocturnal rounds? How do you address the Lord Mayor of Sydney, Australia properly? Who were the nine Communists convicted in August of 1954?

AND THEN A stunner: what is the name of the fish about the size of a guppy, that once a year goes up the Sandy River in Oregon and is so prolific that nets are used to catch them? This one took a bit of time, but the answer was finally supplied by an Oregonian who had often paid the fifty cents necessary for a license to do this very thing.

The fish are smelts and our informant was able to make a correction in the questioner's information. Smelts vary in size from three to eight inches, which is considerably larger than a guppy.

Now that CARE is a permanent part of the American effort, increasing requests come in for translation of foreign thank you notes. Thus far, the library has arranged for several Italian and German translations and for the reading of an article in a Danish medical magazine for a local doctor. But two Greek letters still await a translator. Anyone who can read modern Greek would be a welcome sight in the

Signs Ex-Wife as Star

HOLLYWOOD — Bill Dozier, just appointed head of RKO, signed his ex-wife, Joan Fontaine, to costar with Dana Andrews in "Beyond a Reasonable Doubt".

The Cannes Film Festival will be postponed one month due to the scarcity of hotel rooms in Cannes, due in turn to the Kelly-Rainier wedding in nearby Monaco . . . I hear the romance that was blazing between Her Grace's onetime boy friend, Jean-Pierre Aumont, and Marisa Pavan is now a dying ember.

Audrey Hepburn and Fred Astaire are both so thin, Paramount is wondering how they'll ever fill the giant vastation screen in "Funny Face" . . . Miss Hepburn, incidentally, will wash up commitments with Associated British, which signed her for peanuts when she was a nobody, by teaming with Larry Harvey in the British Company's "Forgive My Sins." This will be made after she finishes "The Duke of Reichstadt" for William Wyler. After that her movies will all be made for the good old Yankee dollar.

Newsman saw a new Marlon Brando at the press conference the actor staged at Paramount to announce his new independent production unit, Pennebaker, Inc. By that I mean they saw the businesslike executive rather than the eccentric actor . . . Linda Christian and Edmund Purdom, who kept telling reporters they're not going to get married, acted like they were at the party tossed by Valerie and Donald Nelson for Kitty Mills of London's Les Ambassadeurs Club the day after Purdom's divorce from his first wife was affirmed . . . Miss Christian wore a Grace Kelly-type hairdo, with a bun-in-the-back. It's become quite the rage in Hollywood . . . Ann Miller was with Lord Porchie Carnarvon of London . . . Joan Fontaine and her present spouse, Collier Young were there too, and I learned from Joan that Collier was once voted "America's Most Representative Boy" at the tender age of 14, and that he had lunch with Calvin Coolidge as a prize — tuna fish salad and very little conversation!

By the time Orson Wells winds up his $20,000-a-week stint at the Riviera in Las Vegas and collects off his upcoming TV spectacular with Betty Grable he'll be caught up with the taxes he owes Uncle Sam. At long last . . .

If you caught Johnny Carson's final show at the end of which he looked into the camera and said, "I have practiced hypnotism. I am putting you into my power. You are to place all your money in an envelope and send it to me" — you may be wondering if any one took him seriously. Four hundred viewers did. And Johnny swears he has the money to prove it . . . Mary Livingston, Rochester, Don Wilson and Dennis Day will tag along when Jack Benny goes to London this summer to make his TV bow there with a full-hour live show featuring a galaxy of top British stars . . . How to Boss Your Husband

NEW YORK — Deborah Kerr told me of seeing Cary Grant eating lunch at the studio at 9 o'clock in the morning (out of a fancy, bright-hued box) exclaiming: "That woman — she hypnotized me so I wouldn't smoke today!"

"Now I can't stand the taste of a cigarette and I'm starved. It's awful to have a wife who literally hypnotizes her husband."

His wife, Betsy Drake, hypnotizes him frequently.

"Wait'll she starts working on your stocks and bonds," Miss Kerr told Grant, who shrugged, "Oh, she got those years ago."

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

Chou En-lai Wants Meeting

WASHINGTON — Red China's Premier Chou En-lai wants to confer with Secretary Dulles while he is in Southeast Asia. That's been proposed through neutralist sources with close Peiping ties.

They have been informed that a meeting of any kind between Dulles and Chou "is out of the question at this time."

This reply is similar to the one made to the repeated demands for such a conference by the Red Chinese Ambassador who has been negotiating with Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson in Geneva since last August. "Each time the Peiping representative has been told that a Dulles-Chou En-lai parley will be considered only after the Communists make good their promise to liberate all American prisoners."

Following the SEATO conference in Karachi, Secretary Dulles will visit ten Southeast Asian countries, including the leading neutralists — India, Burma, and Indonesia.

In Dulles' talks with Premier Nehru, Premier U. Nu and other neutralist leaders, it is anticipated that Red China will be discussed, particularly as regards the Communists' continuing military build-up against the Nationalists' offshore strongholds on Quemoy and Matsu Islands.

But it will be made firmly clear to the neutralists that there is no possibility of direct relations between the U.S. and Peiping at present. Numerous major problems will have to be solved before that point is reached.

However, prior to flying to Karachi, Dulles did not preclude the eventual establishment of some form of U. S. recognition of Red China.

The Secretary of State made this significant comment at a closed-door meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee on Disarmament, headed by Senator Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn). Dulles did not amplify his hint, and the senators did not question him about it, but it is in the record of this session.

WHAT THEY SAID — The startling indication that the U. S. may eventually recognize Red China came out during a discussion of President Eisenhower's "open skies" disarmament inspection plan.

Senator Humphrey raised the point of where and how Red China fits into this concept. "If the U. S. and Russia come to an agreement on disarmament inspection," he pointed out, "it's obvious Communist China can't be excluded; isn't that correct?" "Sooner or later," conceded Dulles, "but not necessarily at the inception. The big problem that has to be solved first, is a surprise massive attack with resulting mass destruction. At present, that does not really involve Red China. It could conceivably be used by the Soviet for launching guided missiles and basing intercontinental bombers, but that isn't an immediate problem, as we see it."

"But the fact still remains," continued Humphrey, "that it is impossible to have a truly effective disarmament inspection system that ignores the existence of a country that encompasses about one-sixth of the land mass of the globe and which has upwards of 600,000,000 people, with millions of them in its armies, plus a growing airforce and navy."

"Yes," agreed Dulles, "ultimately a comprehensive disarmament inspection system must include Red China."

Supervisors Plan Study of 4 Redistricting Plans

Four plans for redistricting the County of Riverside were presented to the Board of Supervisors this week and explained by Tyler Suess, county planning director.

A motion by Supervisor Fred McCall, seconded by Supervisor Roman Warren, to delay further consideration until the first of next year, failed to get support from any of the other three supervisors and was therefore defeated three to one.

Supervisor George Berkey suggested that the Beaumont-Banning Pass area in his district seems to be most concerned in the redistricting plans as presented, and suggested that when the supervisors hold their informal meeting there in May the matter be discussed in order to get the reaction of the people there.

Suess remarked that from the one hearing held in the pass area, it seems that the people prefer being placed in the third district rather than the fifth. "They feel more closely allied to the third district," he declared.

SUPERVISOR WARREN who, with Supervisors William Jones and Berkey comes up for election in the primary in June of this year with the possibility of also having to run in the general election in November, strongly opposed any consideration of redistricting until after the elections.

Supervisor Jones, however, declared, "I'm not opposed to holding hearings on the proposed plans before the elections. We can't act until after the elections anyway."

According to County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr. under state law districts may not be made so as to unseat any supervisor nor within 90 days preceding an election. He pointed out that if hearings are held now and a plan determined upon the board could take definite action to redistrict immediately following the November election, and allowing 30 days for the ordinance to redistrict to go into effect, could make new districts effective the first of next year.

Supervisor McCall declared, "This board should decide first what redistricting plan it wishes to follow, if any, and then hold hearings."

Supervisor Anderson disagreed. "We should have open minds," he said. Anderson also expressed the opinion that a redistricting study should be mandatory every four years at least.

"I'M IN FAVOR of holding hearings on the redistricting plans now, starting with the May meeting in the Beaumont-Banning area," declared Supervisor Berkey. "I may be a novice politically, but it seems to me the redistricting problem is important and we have to be informed on it."

"We'd crystallize our thinking as to the wishes of the people by holding hearings. If we don't act now, from a political standpoint we'll have to sit on it for another nine months."

No action was taken on Berkey's suggestion for a redistricting discussion at the May meeting. He made a motion to include it on the agenda of the Pass meeting, but Supervisor Jones, who with Supervisor Anderson indicated he would favor the discussion, remarked that no motion was necessary.

"Remember, we'll be their guests," smiled Supervisor Warren. "What they want discussed there will be up to them and there's not a thing we can do about it." And there the matter was dropped.

THE FOUR PROPOSED plans for redistricting submitted by the planning commission were numbered one, two, three, and four. Plan No. 1 is favored by the commission. Suess told the supervisors. It would divide the City of Riverside into four areas equal in population and then divide the adjoining county areas so as to form supervisory districts equal in population. Norco would be added to the second district; Elsinore, Murietta, and Temecula areas would be included in the fifth district; and the third district would be extended to include the San Geronio Pass area, thus reducing the size of the fourth district.

Relative to the number of districts which might include a portion of the city of Riverside (there are now four), Suess had this to say: "The more districts coming into the city of Riverside the better, from the standpoint of population."

"With four districts coming in (as now), the preponderance of voters are outside the city of Riverside, then in each one of them by far more of the majority would live in the city and undoubtedly two of the five supervisors would be elected from Riverside."

"If three districts come into the city it would just about be a toss-up," said Suess. Each would have approximately the same number of people inside and outside the city."

UNDER PLAN NO. 2, the city of Riverside would be divided into three areas equal in population and as in Study No. 1, the adjoining county area would be divided so as to equalize the three districts. The third district would no longer come into the city. It would extend eastward to include the San Geronio Pass area and the Palm Springs-Desert Hot Springs communities. Norco would be added to the second district. There would be little change in the fifth district.

Under Plan No. 3 the city of Riverside would comprise all of the first district. The Norco-Corona communities would be added to the second district and the Alford-La Sierra-Elsinore-Murietta-Temecula areas would be in the fifth district. The third district would extend into the Pass-Desert areas as in Plan No. 2.

Supervisor Anderson expressed personal interest in Plan No. 4 as proposed by the planning commission's first redistricting study in 1951. Boundaries proposed at that time followed high school district lines except within the Riverside city school district.

THE PLAN was based on a belief that a greater community interest centered around the several school districts in the county than around any other single factor and that if the school districts were grouped into supervisory districts of approximately equal population, the resulting arrangement would come nearer to meeting all the requirements of the state law than any other redistricting idea suggested.

The Beaumont and Banning school districts were removed from the fourth supervisory district in

Kiwanis Club to Sell Peanuts for Dental Clinic

The St. Patrick's Day peanut sale by members of the Kiwanis Club in the Village is expected to bring enough money into club coffers to replenish funds spent for dental equipment presented by them to the Health Center.

The dental equipment and a compressor to power it were presented this week to the Welfare and Friendly Aid Society by the Kiwanis Club.

The compressor was paid for by the money gathered when the Desert Car Wash turned over its facility to Kiwanians, recently.

The complete unit is operated by volunteer dentists of the Village, and the unit used in the past has worn out.

The Kiwanians have undertaken supply of the dental clinic as one of their projects, and plan to continue to provide its needs.

Little Men Needed

order to reduce the population of that district. These school districts were placed in the fifth supervisory district because it was believed that their interests were more compatible with those of the farm areas, comprising most of the fifth district than with any other contiguous district. The fifth district would no longer come into the city of Riverside in order to compensate for the addition of the San Geronio Pass areas.

Under the Number Four Plan, the remaining three supervisory districts each includes a part of the city of Riverside.

PALM SPRINGS AREA Democratic Club announced today that it will support its own candidates for the primary election, in separate action from the Riverside County Democratic Council. Persons selected by the Council included Mal-

Area Democratic Club to Endorse Own Candidates for June Primary

Palm Springs Area Democratic Club today announced that it will endorse its own slate of Democratic candidates for the primary election, separately from action taken by the Riverside County Council.

The local delegation, led by Sol Forman and Laurence Chapman, walked out of the convention held Sunday at the Ranch Club.

In presenting its decision for separate endorsement, the club said that "it will support the will of the Democratic voters in this county by supporting all Democratic candidates nominated in the primary elections."

THE DELEGATION walk-out action was given unanimous approval by the executive board of the local club, after the following reasons were given:

"The convention was not representative of the Democrats in Riverside County." In support of this charge, the delegation said that committees were appointed days before the convention, without receiving the required approval of the County Council.

The Coachella delegation dominated the convention with approximately 40 percent of the delegates, even though they represent only about 5 percent of the Democratic voters of the county. "It was cited that Riverside

Idyllwild Radio to be Studied Before Action

IDYLLWILD — Purchase of a handy talkie radio transmitter-receiver intended primarily for use in law enforcement, emergencies or civilian defense work, is being held up pending approval by the board of supervisors and clearance through the sheriff's office and the communications department, Jay W. Gifford, Idyllwild fire commissioner, advised the supervisors this week.

"The Idyllwild Fire Commissioners are agreeable to turning title over to the county on a term lease basis to facilitate maintenance," said Gifford. "No purchase expense to the county is involved."

The matter was referred to Harvey Platt, director of communications for study and coordination with county counsel who remarked that there may be some secondary legal implications.

County May Sell 80 Acres Land in Coachella Valley

INDIO — County Counsel Ray Sullivan was authorized this week to explore further the possibility of selling the 80 acres owned by the county in the Coachella Valley, subject to a new three year lease of a ten acre piece in the middle of the property to the University of California Experiment Station.

Supervisor George Berkey and Agricultural Commissioner Robert Howie said that Bruce Gear, who has offered to purchase the property, is familiar with the experimental station problem and is agreeable to continue the lease and the experimental operations on the ten acres.

"We would like, if possible, to continue our observations for another three years," declared Dr. Ellis Darling from UC.

Howie said camel thorn under observation on the property has abated and under study now on eight other properties, so it could be dropped. Doctor Darling said it is the observation of umphalia root rot that should be continued.

He said 18 varieties of dates have been planted on the county

Cabazon District Fails to Furnish Election Funds

CABAZON — The Cabazon County Water District has not indicated willingness nor intent to pay for the election it must hold in accordance with provisions of the State Water Code, County Counsel Ray Sullivan, Jr. told the supervisors this week. "They should have levied a tax before this because of the foreseeable obligation," he declared.

The supervisors set Tuesday, March 27, 1956, as date for the election and instructed county counsel to follow up and see that funds are made available for the election. Sullivan said the election costs could be collected from the district eventually, through its power of taxation.

Two directors are to be elected. Candidates are H. Alan Argue, Willard Hager, Ray D. Merrick, and Oscar L. Rocheleau.

DESERT HOT SPRINGS NOTES

Mrs. Nola Woodruff of Reedsport, Oregon, is enjoying the season with her son, Stanley Woodruff of Sixth Street, and his family.

Enjoying the desert so much that they plan to return soon and look at property are Mr. and Mrs. George Ahern of Colton, recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Volkman.

Jimmie Carpenter was in town recently. He is in the construction business in Duarte, Lancaster.

Bruce Crawford of La Fiesta Apartments reports another "desert miracle" healing. On her doctor's advice, Mrs. Evelyn Martin of San Mateo sought relief from an aggravating skin condition in the dry air. Unable to sleep well for months, she and her year-and-a-half-old son, Bradley, were cared for by her sister, Mrs. Eleanor Sabers of Sacramento.

After two days of liquid fruit and vegetable dieting, hot mineral water and sunbathing, her condition showed marked improvement. When Mrs. Martin's husband, John, came for her after two weeks, to his amazement her recovery was complete.

Transferred from San Diego to the Palm Springs area by the Standard Oil Company and now making their home in Mira Monte Courts are Mr. and Mrs. Don Montour and their sons, Joey and Jeff, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dingle and their daughter, Karen.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Epperson and their daughters, Janet, 6, and Carol, 3, are enjoying the Winter season at Mira Monte Courts. They visited for a short time last year, but came here for the longer stay this year because of their love for the desert.

The Eppersons are looking forward to the arrival of old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Loewen, from the Eppersons' home town, Port Angeles, Washington, where Mr. Loewen is a contractor and builder.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burrow and their children, Bruce, Bonnie and Donna, from Arlington Heights, Illinois, and Albert Burrow Jr., with his daughter, Alison, from San Diego are visiting Mrs. A. A. Burrow, who is at La Fiesta Apartments on Fifth Street for a few days. While here, they helped celebrate the birthday of their cousin, A. Stanley-Jones of Seven Palms Rancho.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Harvey of Sixth Street have received word from their daughter, Mrs. Florence Walker, now in Zurich, Switzerland, that she and her daughter, Carol, are returning to America soon, sailing March 16 from Southampton, England.

Carol has been doing postgraduate work in France, while Florence has been in many European countries, completing her courses in psychology, preparing for a course in psychological counseling.

DHS Community Chest Fund Drive to Start Mar. 10

Desert Hot Springs Businessmen and residents planning to erect roadside signs this week were reminded of county and state restrictions governing such signs, by Building Inspector George Caldwell.

County Ordinance 163 prohibits all such signs in C or R zones, Caldwell pointed out, except a sign not exceeding six square feet, offering for lease, sale or hire the property on which the sign is located.

If anyone wants to put up a roadside sign on a county road, the following regulations were cited. 1—Obtain a clearance from the county road department, certifying that the sign is not on the highway.

2—If it's a state aid road —and most roads in this area are — a permit must be obtained from the state.

3—Finally, if the sign is more than six feet high, a building permit must be secured.

Caldwell suggests that anyone planning to put up such a sign would be wise to stop in his office at 11-916 Palm Drive.

Plan Ag Leases at County Airport

THERMAL — The supervisors took formal action this week to accept the Civil Aeronautics Administration's release of all property on the Thermal Airport except that used for aviation purposes from National Emergency Use provisions, by adoption of a resolution prepared by county counsel. The release paves the way for long term leasing of the agricultural area of the airport.

"Do you have any idea when the new 25-year leases on the agricultural property will be ready?" Supervisor Berkey asked County Counsel Sullivan.

"Preparation of the leases is second on my priority list," replied Sullivan, "but I hope I might have them ready next week."

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK — Willie Mays may have slipped into the baseball background in the rosy riot over Brooklyn's World Series success but the belting bridegroom still stands aces high with the players.

Latest testimony anent the talents of the "say hey" kid comes from Bill Bruton, an adversary who struts his stuff for the rival Milwaukee Braves. As such, Bruton would not be wont to over-emphasize a competitor's ability.

But the Braves' Bill insists that Willie has the best arm in the National League.

"Mays has the best arm and I'd put Wally Pate of the Reds second," Bruton estimates with what may amount to heresy in Brooklyn, considering that he rates Carl The Arm Furillo no better than third in the shotgun derby.

IT IS A TESTAMENT to Mays, perhaps, that Giant official Garry Shumacher estimated recently that this season wondrous Willie "may be over the hump."

If he was ever behind one, most of the other players in the game should be so lucky.

Two years ago, you'll remember when Willie was a one-man gang leading the Giants to the National League pennant he was being described as a sepioid combination of Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth and Tris Speaker. En route, he won the batting title with a gaudy .345 and was naturally named the most valuable player.

AT FIRST THOUGHT, you may remember him as a stiff last season. The truth is that Willie got off real badly. He threw to the wrong bases, went to sleep on same and even was benched at one point in early June.

The truth is that Willie's truly terrific finish was completely overlooked in the mad delirium which followed Brooklyn's early pennant clinching and assault on the world championship.

Willie actually was a ball of fire coming down the stretch. In that period he tied the record of seven home runs in six consecutive games, became the seventh man to hit 50 or more home runs and wound up as the league's second leading batsman with a .319 mark. It went unnoticed, but he also led in total bases with 382 and was second in runs batted in with 127.

The year before he was being hailed as one of the nine wonders of the baseball world.

YET LAST SEASON he upped his total bases by five, increased his home runs by 10 and raised his runs batted in total by 17.

The theory was that Willie found the pressure too much to bear after such a tremendous season the year before. Actually, his runs batted in, total bases and homers would indicate that he was an even better ball player than the year before.

And they say, out in the Giants' Spring training camp, that he is flaming like an Arizona sunset. Which should give all concerned the idea that now he is "over the hump" he may be a bit more than merely astounding in 1956.

21st Annual Invitational to Attract Stars

Dr. Bud Taylor To Defend O'Donnell Title Next Week

The big part of the three-event O'Donnell Invitational Golf Tournament, the Palm Springs Amateur Championship, will start March 16 and continue through the 17th and 18th with 90 of the country's best amateurs.

Because there will be no cut-off, many of the amateurs who had previously hinted at refusal to participate now add their names to the roster.

Besides the big event, there will be three days of high-handicap golf starting next Monday, and Thursday's Senior tourney.

Ninety golfers are scheduled for each event.

Regarding the feeling of the directors of the 1956 O'Donnell Invitational, a statement prepared by them fully expresses their attitude:

"The U.S.G.A. is the governing body of golf in the United States, and our Directors want to abide by and fulfill their wishes.

This popular golf event is an example for other tournaments throughout the country.

Such amateur golfers as Dr. Bud Taylor, Johnny Dawson, Harvie Ward, Ken Venturi, Rod Funseth, Tommy Jacobs, Bruce Cudd and other well known amateurs are now reluctant to participate in any tournament which holds a calculated.

Their opportunity for being chosen for the team to Mexico this Summer, the Walker Cup in England, and other amateur events will be jeopardized. Without such players, we degenerate into a tournament of "hackers."

Because of their action, the directors, under the chairmanship of J. E. "Dad" French, have received acceptances from the following and other fine amateurs:

DR. BUD TAYLOR, 1955 Palm Springs Champion, also a candidate for the Walker Cup team and the team to play in Mexico.
KEN VENTURI, San Francisco, one of the leading amateurs in the United States and a great prospect for the Walker Cup team and the American team to play in Mexico.

ROD FUNSETH, Spokane Washington—playing very well on the circuit and finished very well in the California Open. Morris Cup Team—that is, the Pacific Northwest against California. A very long hitter, a real threat in any amateur event in the country.

TOMMY JACOBS, Montebello, California—just out of the Service—playing exceptionally well. Former U.S. Junior Champion and one of the leading prize winners in the Palm Springs Championship.

JOHNNY DAWSON, Palm Springs, California—twice winner of the Palm Springs Championship, former California State Champion, and for a while was known as the world's uncrowned champion, and one of the best amateurs in the U.S.

TAL SMITH, Oakland, California—one of the most feared competitors in the game. A member of the Morse Cup Team for the past two years. Handicap 0.

JIMMY MCGONAGLE, Louisiana—seven times winner of the Louisiana State Championship. Handicap 0.
CHARLES KECIS, Detroit, Michigan—former Michigan State and Open Champion. A favorite to win the U.S. Amateur at any time.

LY. E. W. ATKINSON, Jr., Portland, Oregon—a scratch golfer, a newcomer to the Palm Springs event. Watch him in the next U.S. Amateur Championship.

BRUCE CUDDE, Portland—member 1955 Walker Cup Team—Western Amateur and Oregon State Champion.

GENE ANDREWS, Los Angeles, California—1954 Public Links Champion, Semi-finalist in the 1955 Public Links Championship, finished third in the Palm Springs Championship last year, and the O'Donnell Golf Club course suit his game to a "T."

TOM DRAFER, Detroit, Michigan—a seasoned tournament golfer who is coming all the way from Detroit to try his luck in this event.

BRUCE MCCORMICK, Los Angeles, California—former U.S. Public Links Champion, member of the Morse Cup Team and former winner of the Palm Springs Championship.

MIKE PEREZ, Tamarisk Country Club, Palm Springs, California—former winner of the U.S. Public Links Championship and playing very well at present.

CHARLES TEST, Los Vegas, Nevada—former Palm Springs Champion, Nevada State Champion, who plays the same type of golf as Ed Fury, former U.S. Open Champion.

MILT RICKS, Palm Springs, California—always a favorite and the biggest booster for this tournament.

P.S. Aquatic Squad Takes on Redlands

Coach Wayland Reynolds' Palm Springs swimming team journeyed to Redlands today to take on the potent Redlands Terriers in the second league meet of the season.

In their first meet of the season the Indian tankmen defeated a Chaffey team, weaker in all three divisions. The real test of the Indians' strength, however, will be their showing against Redlands today. The Terriers, along with Riverside Poly, are co-favorites to win the Citrus Belt League title.

Although the Indians have several individual stars, they seem to lack the depth necessary to produce a championship team. The local tankmen lost most of their varsity meets last year, but promising swimmers from the B and C squads have helped to overcome this year.

In the varsity division the Indians are led by John Cunningham. The powerful fullback from the Indians' grid team won two freestyle races and was anchorman on the winning four man relay last week against Chaffey.

Jerry Greenfield, who won the CIF Invitational in the breaststroke last year, is swimming A and seems to be having little trouble of disposing of his bigger opponents, although he is still a C.

Thorpe's Widow Would Oust AAU

WILMINGTON — The widow of famed Indian athlete Jim Thorpe today compared the suspension of miler Wes Santee with the ban on her late husband and called for an end to the system which she said "makes bums out of our athletes."

Mrs. Patricia Thorpe has been living quietly near this harbor community since the death on March 28, 1952, of Thorpe, famed Carlisle Indian Institute athlete who was declared a pro for playing semiprofessional baseball.

Mrs. Thorpe said the ban on Santee would not allow her to remain silent.

"Let's do away with the AAU and amateurism completely," she proposed. "The AAU is making hypocrites, chislers and bums out of our athletes, forcing them to take money that isn't allowed in order to live."

Name Two for All-West Squad

NEW YORK — Guards Carl Cain of Iowa and Paul Judson of Illinois were named today on the West squad which will play the East in the College All-Star basketball game at Madison Square Garden, March 31. Bill Russell and K. C. Jones of San Francisco were named previously to the team.

Podres Loss to be Offset Says Alston

Has Three Young Pitchers To Seek His Place He Says

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers viewed World Series hero, Johnny Podres' imminent induction into the Army today as too late to help the New York Yankees and too early to be of much comfort to their National League rivals.

"Johnny's loss will put more of a burden on our pitching," Manager Walt Alston conceded. "But if our young pitchers are as good as we think, we'll still have good pitching."

THE THREE top candidates to replace Podres as the world champions' No. 1 left-handed starter are 24-year old strikeout whiz Karl L. who had an 8-6 record last season; 20-year old bonus kid Sandy Koufax, who was 2-2 in 12 games in 1955; and 27-year old Ken Lehman, who had a 22-9 record and 2.76 earned run average for Montreal in the International League.

The Brooklyn high command's chief reason for accepting the news calmly is the belief that the team's basic strength still is its top-to-bottom run of power hitters. Secondly, it was pointed out that Podres—for all his World Series heroics—had only a 9-10 record during the season and actually was not a key man in winning the pennant.

THE 23-YEAR OLD PODRES was told to report to Ticonderoga, N.Y., for induction March 15 but may ask that his papers be transferred to the Vero Beach, Fla., board which announced Tuesday that he then would be slated for induction in the April quota. Either way, Johnny will miss the next two seasons unless discharged for "hardship" or medical reasons.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, were gratified by the steady progress of shortstop Peeewe Reese, who suffered a pulled back muscle last Friday. The 36-year old team captain was up and around for the first time since the accident Tuesday and said he'd resume workouts next week.

MANAGER MARTY MARION produced a major surprise Tuesday with the announcement of his tentative opening day lineup for the Chicago White Sox. It had slugger Maceo Mino leading off followed by Nelson Fox, George Kell, Larry Doby, Jim Rivera, Sherman Lollar, Walt Dropo and Luis Aparicio. Marion was expected to pair Mino and Doby in the Nos. 3 and 4 slots.

Vic Wertz, stricken by polio last August, checked into Cleveland's Tuscon, Ariz., camp and said he hoped to be the Indians' regular first baseman. Wertz, who hit 14 homes in about half a season last year, seemed completely recovered and Manager Al Lopez already has indicated that he will be the team's regular first-sacker.

INDIAN NETTERS IDLE AS OPENER CANCELLED

By JOHN SIMON

Palm Springs high school netters, scheduled to start their Riverside County League campaign today in defense of the title they won last year, remained idle and indulged in practice instead.

They were slated to entertain the Elsinore boys and girls teams on the local courts this afternoon but this morning word came from Elsinore that, due to transportation difficulties, the Lake teams would be unable to make it.

The outlook is bright for the boys' team as they lost only two players from last year's championship team.

Gary Waters, who did not lose a set in league play last season, will play in the first singles slot and Fred Grimm gets the nod as second singles player. The Indians suffered a bad break, however, when it was learned that Dawson Hayward, part of the first-doubles combination along with Roger Williams, will be unavailable to the team for three weeks due to illness.

Other members of the team are Dick Blackstone, Mickey Lang, Denny Hammond, Bill Beck, and Dick MacFarland.

Th girls' team does not figure to do as well. They lost many players through graduation. To make matters worse, Jean Staley, one of the few back from last

"TEETHPICK"

This Teethpick was copied from a real gold one that my landlady, Mrs. Goonsgarten, has on her charm bracelet. She originally gave it to the late Mr. Goonsgarten on the Plastic Wedding Anniversary and when he passed away he left it to her along with his bottle cap collection and his autographed photo of President Harding. There's a touching, poetic inscription on the teethpick that goes, "Poopsy (that's him) Roses are red, violets are blue, you've only got 2 teeth, but I love you signed 'Slugger' (that's her) You must admit that's really heartwarming. In fact, it's almost as heartwarming as Mrs. Goonsgarten's hash croquets.

Pressure on U.S. Growing for More Cold War Handout

This is likely to be an unusually expensive year for the United States in the cold war.

Pressure is building up all over the world, directly and indirectly, for American financial and economic help.

The reason usually cited is the threat of Communist aggression or the threat of Russia's worldwide campaign of penetration.

On the indirect side, the attraction of "neutrality," as between East and West is pointed out.

THERE SEEMS to be good reason for suspicion that some foreign governments are using the Communist menace and the desirability of neutrality as a means of getting money for purely national interests.

In other words, that some governments are crying "wolf, wolf" to get American aid and others are crying that they want to be lamb, grazing in neutralist pastures while the big powers fight the cold war.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has said that the government should be empowered to commit $100 million a year for several years to aid underdeveloped countries.

Unless that power is given, he said, "We take a risk which is quite unjustified, having regard to the small cost of avoiding it."

BUT THE PRESSURE on the United States government from abroad, great as it is now, is likely to increase.

President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy offers the suggestion that the United States ought to pay more attention to economic cooperation among the North Atlantic Treaty Countries.

That could cost a lot of money.

The threat of Chinese Communist aggression against its neighbors is a reason for substantial aid to the countries concerned.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia, who was long firmly on the Allied side, has declared himself a neutralist. Thailand is reported considering a trade agreement with Red China.

SOVIET PREMIER Nikolai A. Bulganin and Communist party chieftain Nikita S. Khrushchev offered aid to India, Burma and Afghanistan during their visit to South Asia.

That is likely to entail corresponding offers by the United States.

Partly because of the Communist sale of arms to Egypt, American aid to that country for building its gigantic Aswan dam has become urgently necessary.

Greece is angry over Britain's refusal to give up its colony of Cyprus. Russia is trying to take advantage of that. It may mean more American money.

West Germany, some suspect, is using its value to the Allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

How the Case of Autherine Lucy in South Began

By UNITED PRESS

Background on the Autherine Lucy case. In 1952 Autherine Lucy, 26-year-old Negro and daughter of a South Alabama tenant farmer, applied for admission to the all-white University of Alabama.

She made application along with a friend, Mrs. Polly Ann Hudson, 23. Both had earned bachelor of arts degrees in English at an accredited Birmingham Negro institution, Miles College.

Their applications did not state they were Negroes. The applications were in the final stages of processing when the two Negroes appeared on the campus to pay a deposit for a dormitory room.

Dean of Admissions William F. Adams told them there had been a mistake. It would be a violation of state law to enroll them, he said.

IN SEPTEMBER, 1953, attorney Arthur Shores filed a suit in U. S. District Court in Birmingham demanding that race be no criterion for university enrollment. The suit was backed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

While awaiting the court's decision Miss Lucy taught English at a Negro high school in Carthage, Mississippi.

U. S. District Judge Hobart Grooms, after months of legal argument, ruled in July, 1955, that the university must enroll any Negro who is qualified. The university asked for a new hearing, but Grooms denied it.

UNIVERSITY attorneys appealed to the Fifth U. S. Circuit Court Appeals at New Orleans, which upheld Grooms' ruling. The university accepted Miss Lucy but rejected Mrs. Hudson on the ground of personal morals since she is divorced.

Miss Lucy entered the university Feb. 3, but was denied access to the university dining facilities and women's dormitories.

After two heated student demonstrations, a riot broke out on the campus Feb. 6. A mob threw rocks at Miss Lucy. The university board of trustees voted that night to "exclude her until further notice" to safeguard her life and restore order to the campus.

The next day Miss Lucy filed petitions in Grooms' court asking that University President O. C. Carmichael, Dean Adams, the trustees and four "outsiders" be cited for contempt of court. The suit asked that fines and possibly jail sentences be imposed if the university refused to readmit her. The court ordered her readmitted; the university then expelled her "permanently."

Survey Shows Most Owners Over-Feed Dogs

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON 20—Even man's best friend, the dog, is not immune from surveys.

This particular study was made by the division of Paul F. Ellis and Dana P. Kelly Associates.

"For the most part," Ellis said, "man is a good friend of the dog, but he could be a better one."

It was explained that a great many dog owners kill their dogs—beggars all—with kindness. That is they feed the pups too much. Others underfeed them.

The survey was made among dog owners, breeders, trainers, and dog-doctors—the veterinarians.

MOST OF THE people in the survey had poodles, both big and little. Other popular breeds included boxers, German shepherds, and cocker spaniels.

Forty per cent of the owners admitted that part of the diet for their pets included table scraps. The word vitamin crept into the report, in every other paragraph.

The canines enjoy a wide variety of foods—including such items as milk, eggs, vegetables, cereals, cheese, soup and fruit.

The pampered show dogs, it was said, get more meat and dry food and less canned food than poodles which can afford no blue ribbons.

WELL OVER HALF of the hundreds who answered a questionnaire feed their grown dogs once a day. Some feed them twice a day and admitted to sneaking a goody under the table every now and then. The latter practice is discouraged by the dog doctors.

For puppies the answers ranged from "keep food before them constantly" to twice a day. But 75 per cent said they start puppy feedings after weaning at no less than four times a day.

The report from the doctors said that dogs come down with some of the miseries which hit humans.

Such as vitamin deficiencies, old-age troubles, anemia, skin conditions, poor appetite, malnutrition, arthritis and neuritis — and overfeeding or improper diet.

And significantly, 97 out of 100 vets said they didn't recommend a different diet for a purebred dog than for a mutt of unidentified parents.

11 Bills for State Flood Relief Go Into Legislature Hoppers

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A 10-point flood relief program was introduced today in both houses of the Legislature.

The package deal is made up of recommendations of Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to aid hard-hit communities in Northern and Central California and the ideas of a group of legislators from those areas.

The legislation is contained in 11 bills introduced simultaneously in the Senate and Assembly.

The main points:

1. An administration proposal for $20.8 million for grants on a matching basis for repair of flood damaged public works.

2. Creation of a state planning agency to make local governments eligible for $16 to $18 million in federal funds.
3. Another Knight-backed proposal to set a ceiling of $7.5 million on tidelands oil money going to beaches and parks with the balance earmarked for water project development, including flood control.

4. A BILL ALLOWING property owners who suffered more than $500 in flood damage to have their property reassessed. They also would get refunds if taxes already had been paid for the present year.
5. A $3 million disaster fund to provide food, shelter, lodging and medical supplies for future victims of any disaster.

6. Direct grants or loans to cities, counties or districts to make up for losses suffered in their budgets by lowering of their tax base.

The other bills in the series provide for grants to schools, small utility districts and a catch-all bill to provide outright grants for disaster relief to public agencies.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS:

Water: An "anti enthusiasm" bloc of legislators mostly from Southern California, were urging a slow and cautious approach to passage of major water legislation. Sen. Ben Hulse (R-El Centro), president pro tem of the Senate, said, "I don't see a lot of enthusiasm on any of this water stuff." Some other assemblymen and senators indicated they would like to see all water legislation postponed until the 1957 session.

Beaches and Parks: The assembly Ways and Means Committee scheduled another try at acting on the proposed $25.6 million beach

Ike Defends Allies' Trade with Satellites

By UNITED PRESS

President Eisenhower today staunchly defended a 1954 agreement permitting this country's European Allies to step up their trade with Iron Curtain countries. He told his news conference the agreement was necessary to the economic survival of friendly nations that otherwise might have to depend forever on an American dole.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate's Permanent Investigating Subcommittee, countered that Allied shipment of strategic goods helps build up Communist strength and the United States should demand that they stop.

OTHER congressional news:

AMENDMENT: President Eisenhower said he would not object to a constitutional amendment which merely says a treaty shall not violate the Constitution. But he refused to commit himself on the new version of the proposed Bricker amendment which was approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee this week.

The new version provides that any provision of a treaty that conflicts with "any provision" of the Constitution shall be invalid.

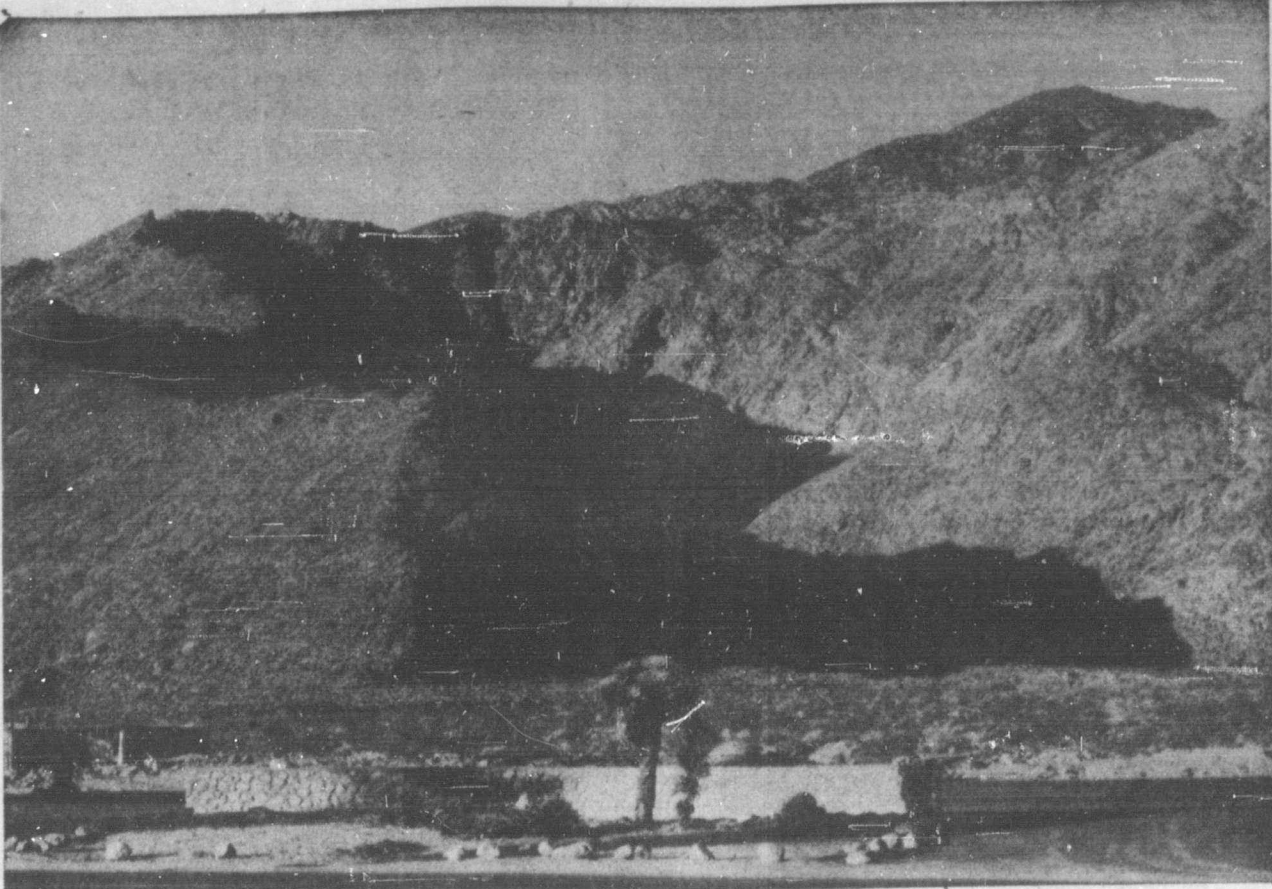

PROFITS: The Lockheed Aircraft Corp. told a House Armed Services Subcommittee that the Air Force should help pay for the "incentive" bonuses it pays its top executives. It said the bonuses promoted better performance which actually made it possible for the company to refund the government $160 million on military plane contracts. The subcommittee has been trying to decide whether military plane contractors have made excessive profits.

FARES: Retiring Chairman Ross Ritzley of the Civil Aeronautics Board said it might be a good idea for the CAB to conduct a full investigation of airline passenger fares.

Rizley told a House Judiciary Subcommittee such an investigation was started in 1953 but was dropped the same year. He didn't say why.

LOBBYING: A special blue ribbon Senate committee asked today for an extra three weeks to write its report on the campaign contribution an oil lobbyist tried to give to Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) during the debate on the natural gas bill. The committee will ask the Senate to extend its report deadline to March 31.

SCHOOLS: Seven House Democrats tried to breathe some life into the $1.6 billion school construction bill by urging Mr. Eisenhower to announce that he would deny federal aid to any schools which segregated students because of race.

THE WITCH OF TAHQUITZ is seen early in the morning when the rising sun casts a shadow in the shape of a witch on a broomstick at the entrance of Tahquitz Canyon. An early Cahulla Indian story said that the Indians would look for the witch in the early morning and if she could be seen it foretold of a "good day." If it was a cloudy day and she was not seen, it was their belief that it would be a "bad day." Dr. C. E. Smith, Desert Museum director, said his records do not hold any stories of the "Witch of Tahquitz," but explained the story could have been a reasonable belief of the early Indians.

Roping Events Slated 2 Days

Two days of calf-roping events, starting each day at 10 a.m. at the Polo Grounds, will be presented this weekend, according to Palm Springs Mounted Police.

The Mounted Police, sponsor of the events, said there will be no admission charge. The stock will be furnished by Dick Doyle of San Bernardino.

Ropers will compete individually and in two-man teams. The teams will attempt to stop and tie a calf in the shortest possible time. They will have three calves in each match, and their average time will be the basis of winning time.

Error in Story on Perez Huff

In a story in the Desert Sun yesterday, Perez Huff's affiliations with insurance companies were transposed to read that he is vice president of a Los Angeles firm, and an associate of a New Jersey company.

He is resident vice president of the New Jersey company, and an affiliate of the Los Angeles office.

Carnation corner

"Only Carnation could make it so good!" That's what I said the first time I tasted Carnation Cottage Cheese—and I still believe it. No other Cottage Cheese has that fine, fresh flavor—that mild, tangy goodness that makes Carnation Cottage Cheese taste so great just as is—straight from the carton.

I like to include Carnation Cottage Cheese in our family menu at least once a day. It supplies so much protein (more than any other kind of regular cheese) and it's so low in calories. We enjoy it plain, with fresh fruits or vegetables, or in thrifty, hearty dishes like this chilly-weather casserole.

Chilly-Weather Macaroni and Cheese

- (Makes 4-6 servings)
- 1 cup (7 oz. can) tuna
 - 3 cups cooked macaroni
 - 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
 - 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 - 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
 - 1/4 cup butter
 - 1/4 cup flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 2 cups CARNATION HOMOGENIZED MILK
 - 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
 - 1 cup CARNATION COTTAGE CHEESE

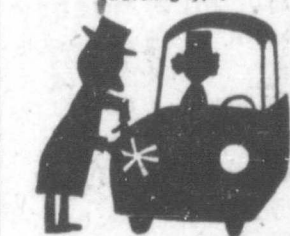

Mix tuna, macaroni, onion, pepper, pimiento together in buttered 1 1/2 quart casserole. Blend butter, flour, salt and pepper together in saucepan over low heat until smooth. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove sauce from heat; add Parmesan and Cottage Cheese. Stir until mixed. Pour sauce over macaroni mixture; blend. Top with paprika, if desired. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 20-25 minutes.

Hint for Wives

(windblown type)
If the March wind comes "in like a lion" on your wash-day, try this. Fasten wooden snap clothespins on the bottom of your clothes (as well as the top). Helps keep them from whipping around the washline.

Hint for Husbands

Keep a roll of reflector tape in the glove compartment of your car. Then, if a headlight burns out on the road you can paste several strips across it as a safety measure.
